

The holiday season allows us to gather together with friends and family to share good tidings and celebrate the significance of this time of year. The relationships we have developed take on a special meaning and it is a season of celebration.

For those standing watch, for those responding to threats, and for those protecting our freedom and liberty granted upon us by God...thank you. I hope you will take a moment and give thanks for those who are unable to be with their loved ones this holiday season. There are many who hold the vanguard of American Freedom at home and abroad, where duty to country has called them to serve this time of year.

As we reflect on the challenges of the past year, let us embrace the opportunities that the new year holds.

Along with my wife Catherine, we wish you a Merry Christmas, Happy Holidays, and wonderful

New Year.

I remain respectfully,

Congressman John Campbell
